Why StoreBulk™?

Utilising our exclusive RhinoBulk™ or VinBulk™ flexitank products with a standard container gives you a secure lockable storage facility.

Used as a temporary storage solution, the StoreBulk™ can be used at load or destination points to assist with just in time delivery systems.

The single layer tank allows for complete and thorough draining without the need to manipulate the tank by hand.

Maximise your secure on-site storage with up to 24,000 litre capacity, reduce the necessity for costly off-site storage facilities.

StoreBulk™ was designed specifically for a low surface area-to-volume ratio taking advantage of your total storage availability.

Sampling the quality of the product is made easy with the addition of a sampling cap.

To find out how we can assist you further with your storage requirements simply contact us at one of our regional head offices or via our website.
